

PhotoPrint 12

Output operation instruction

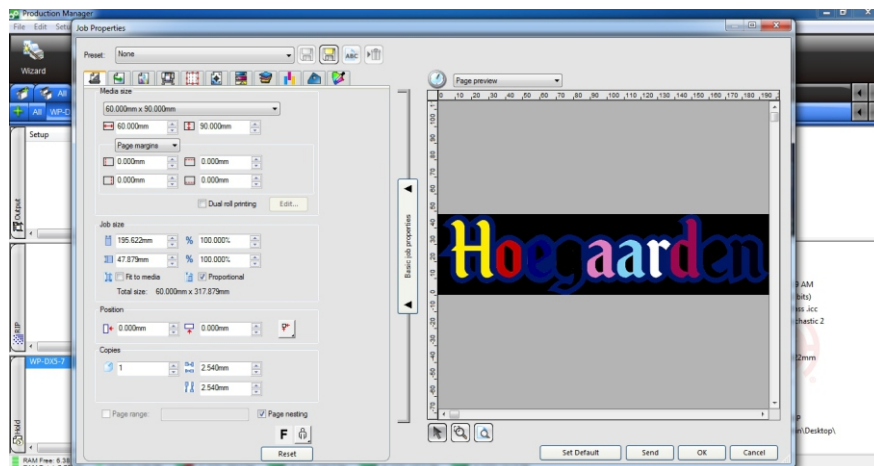

1、The main interface as follow.

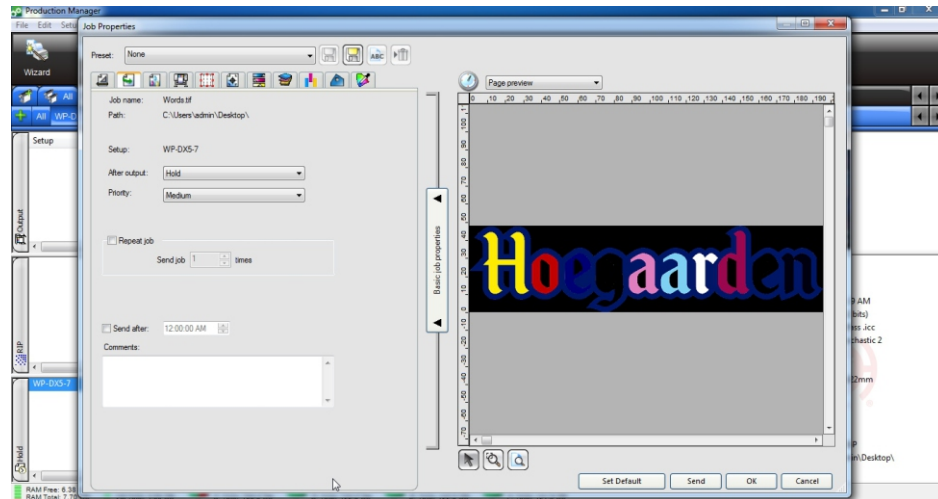

2、Click "Job" select the files location to add the files.

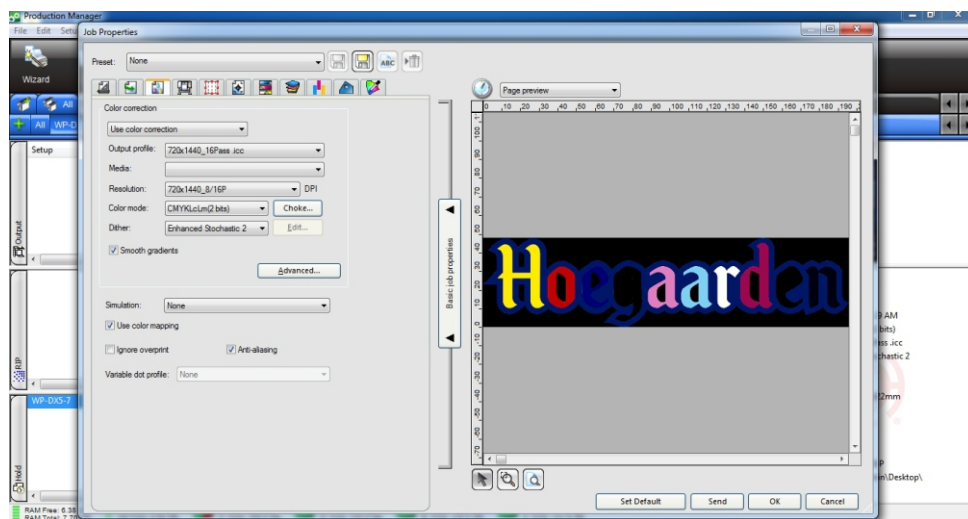

3、Double click the above shown area, enter the work parameter setup page.

- 4、 In default work parameter page, click

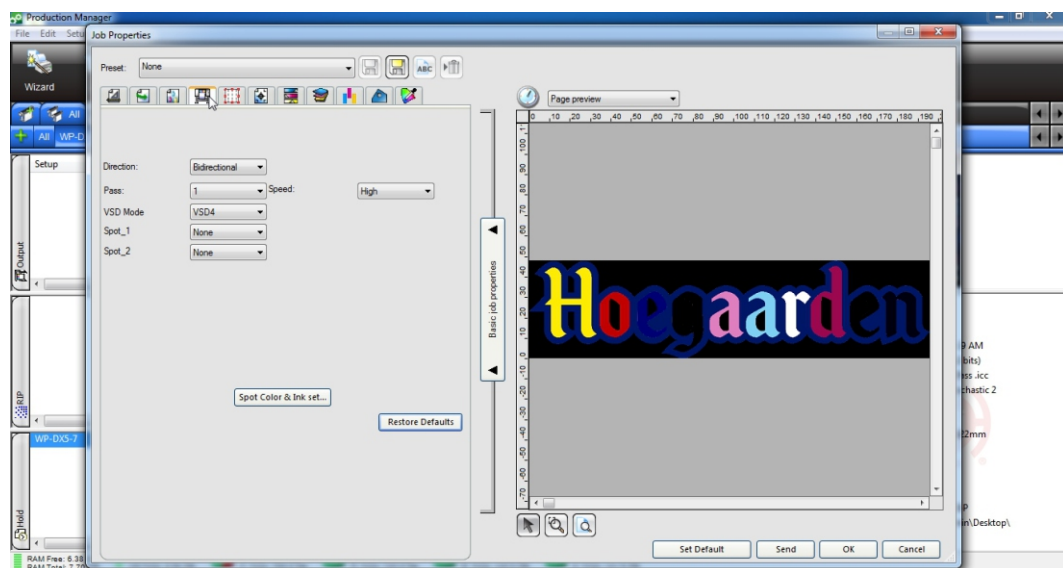

- 5、 In default work parameter page,click

- 2

6、 In default work parameter page, click .

6.1、 SPOT_1– white ink channel

None option is to print color only.

Spot color option is to print both white and color. The printed image has concave and convex effect.

Substrate option is to print both white and color (for white ink pavers or white ink cover).

6.2、 SPOT_1– Light Oil Channel

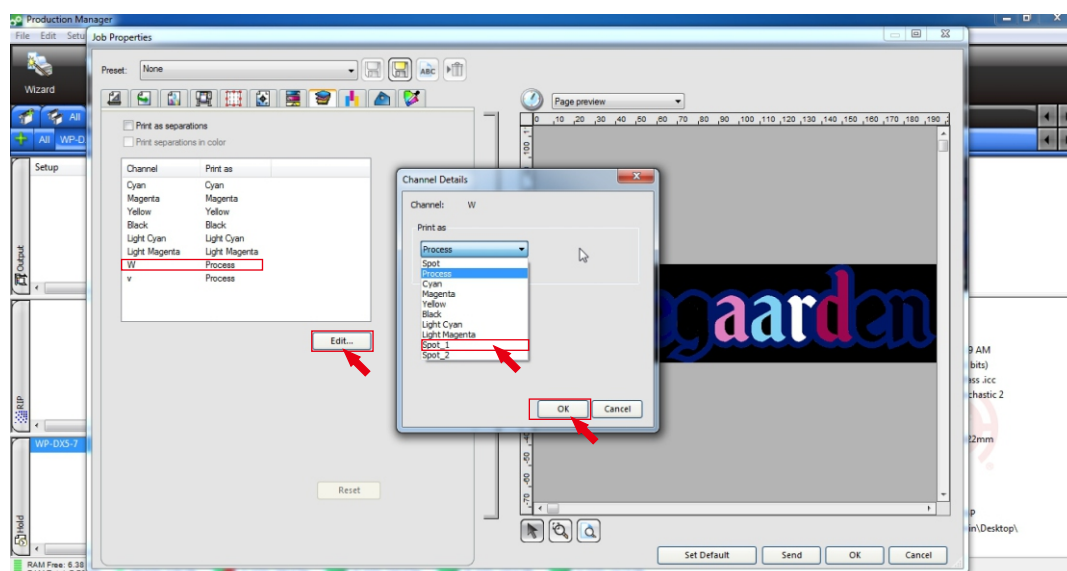

None option is to print color only.

Spot color option is to print both white and color. The printed image has concave and convex effect.

Substrate option is to print both white and color (for white ink pavers or white ink cover).

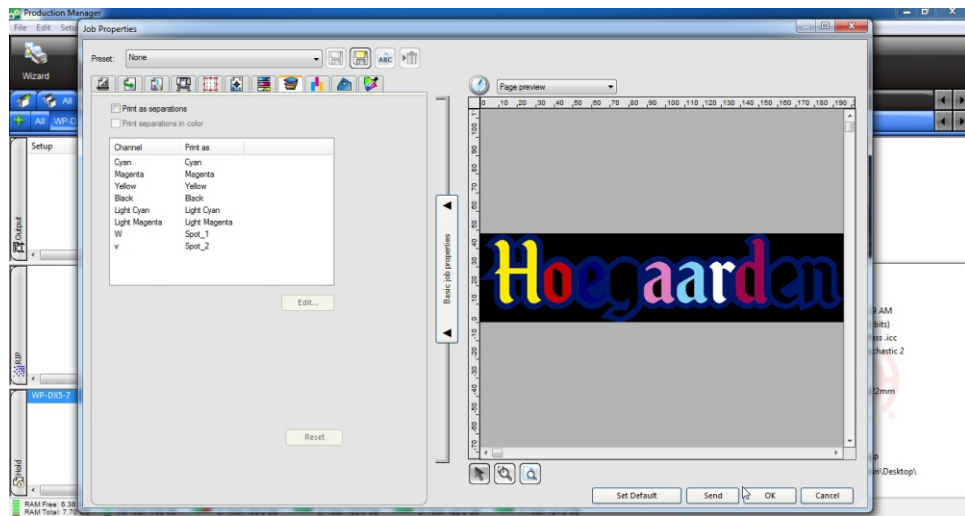

6.3、 Other check option--default.

7、 In default work parameter page, click . (Image no spot color channel, can skip this setting).

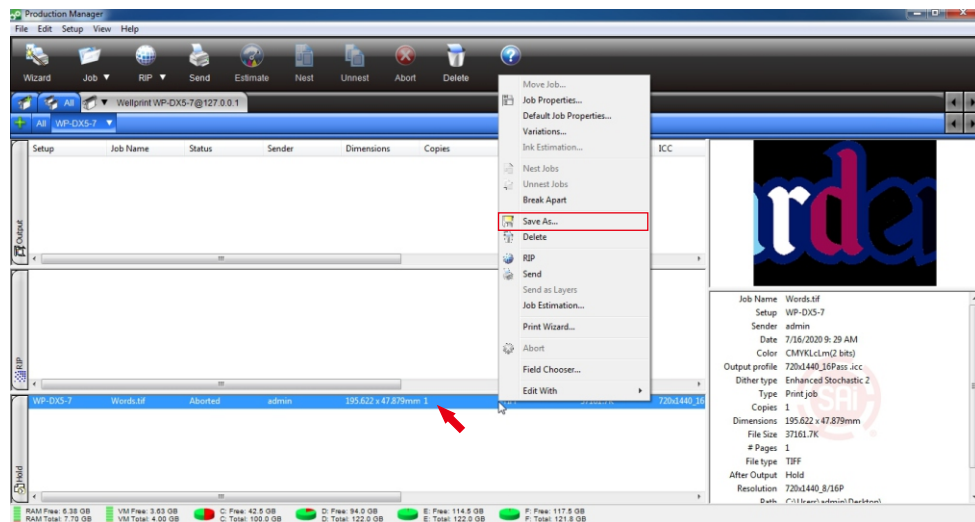

7. 1、 If there is a spot color channel for image rendering, you can select neutral color 1, click "Edit" button, and the channel details will pop up. Select "Spot_1" from the print as pull-down menu. When you're done, click "ok".

8、 All setup done, click "OK".

9、 Save

9.1、 Select the image information box to complete RIP, right click, select "save as", specify the location of file saving, and click 'save'. You can add saved files and other settings by printing control center software.